N - 120.15 Eliminate all forms of discrimination and criminalization of civil society organizations, human rights defenders and the media, inter alia by repealing Executive Decrees Nos. 16, 739 and 691 and the Organic Act on Communication and by ending criminal proceedings against persons participating in social protests based on broadly worded offences contained in the Criminal Code, such as sabotage and terrorism (Germany); Consider revising Executive Decree No. 739 on the regulation of social organizations and the Organic Act on Communication in the light of international commitments on human rights (Costa Rica); Revise Presidential Decrees Nos. 16 and 739, the Criminal Code, as well as the Organic Act on Communication to bring them into line with international human rights norms (Belgium); Reform Presidential Decrees Nos. 16 and 739 and any draft law in this field to ensure the protection of human rights defenders and to ensure the independence and functioning of civil society organizations, notably by accepting the offer of technical assistance from the United Nations special rapporteurs to reform the current legislation (Switzerland); Ensure civil society organizations are able to operate freely, including groups that may be critical of the Government, by amending or repealing Presidential Decrees Nos. 16 and 739 (United States of America);

N - 120.16 Take the necessary steps to ensure that all operations of intelligence agencies are monitored by an independent oversight mechanism (Liechtenstein);

N - 120.17 Advance in reforming the Criminal Code to decriminalize abortion (Norway); Repeal laws criminalizing abortion in cases of rape, incest and severe fetal impairment and eliminate all punitive measures (Iceland); Reform the Comprehensive Criminal Code in relation to the legal extension of abortion and to decriminalize abortion in cases of rape, incest and severe fetal impairment (Slovenia);

N - 120.18 Repeal the provision of the Civil Code that designates the husband as the administrator of marital property (Iceland); Repeal the legal provision that designates the husband as the administrator of marital property (Portugal);

N - 120.19 Repeal Decree No. 1247 and establish clear procedures in secondary legislation in order to implement the right to free, prior and informed consent of indigenous peoples, regarding legislative or administrative measures affecting their territories and livelihood, as contained in the Constitution of Ecuador and in the ILO Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention, 1989 (No. 169) (Germany).

121. Ecuador could not support the recommendations in paragraphs 120.1-120.3 and 120.18 as it considers that they contain factually incorrect information.

122. Ecuador could not support the recommendations in paragraphs 120.5-120.15, 120.17 and 120.19 as it considers that the legislation to which they refer is already in line with international standards.

123. Ecuador could not support the recommendation in paragraph 120.16 as it considers that the existing National System of Public Security, including the National Secretariat of Intelligence, is regulated by the Public Security Law, which provides for civil and democratic control.

124. Ecuador could not support the recommendations in paragraph 120.4 as it considers that there is no need for a national action plan since Ecuador already has in place a binding legislative and policy framework, including the Constitution of the Republic, the Code of Production, Trade and Investment, the Organic Monetary Code and the Comprehensive Criminal Code, among others, that provides for the full protection and promotion of human rights in the context of business operations. This framework is complemented by other norms, plans and programmes in different areas related to business and health, nature, agriculture, fair trade and intellectual property, violence and child labour, and security in public and private entities, inter alia.
