Executive Summary

1. This submission focusses on a number of human rights issues linked to the military service regime in Eritrea: the abusive nature of the military service itself, forced and juvenile recruitment, conditions of service, treatment of conscientious objectors, and more broadly, slave labour, persecution of those who seek to leave the country, and harassment of Eritreans in the diaspora.

2. The submission was drafted in July 2018 on the basis of the latest information available to IFOR.

 Relevant recommendations from the review of Eritrea in the second cycle of the UPR

3. “Implement Proclamation No. 82/1995, limiting national service obligations” (UK)\(^1\)

4. “End conscription of persons for indefinite periods into national service”. (USA\(^2\), also Norway,\(^3\) Australia\(^4\), Italy, Germany\(^5\), Croatia\(^6\), Austria\(^7\), Canada\(^8\), France\(^9\)). Canada further alleged that the system amounted to forced labour: Germany went farther, labelling it “a severe form of forced labour”.

5. “Abolish (...) compulsory military training, particularly for children.” (Australia)\(^10\)

6. “Prohibit the participation of minors in military service” (Spain,\(^10\) also Germany\(^11\), Switzerland\(^12\)).
