

ANNEX

PROFILE OF THE SUBMITTING ORGANISATIONS

Institute for Policy Research and Advocacy (ELSAM), established in August 1993 in Jakarta, is a policy advocacy organisation with limited association as its legal entity. To actively participate in the efforts to develop, promote and protect civil and political rights and other human rights, as mandated by the 1945 Constitution and Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), has become ELSAM's driving objective. From the outset, ELSAM has committed itself to developing a democratic political order in Indonesia by empowering civil society through advocacy and promoting human rights.

Jl. Siaga II No. 31, Pejaten Barat, Pasar Minggu, Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia (12510)

Ph. (+62) 21 7972662, Fax. (+62) 21 79192519

Website: www.elsam.or.id | E-mail: office@elsam.or.id

Human Rights Working Group (HRWG) Indonesia was established in 2003 by the majority of NGOs working in different issues but share interest in human rights to serve the need for elaborate advocacy works already in place with the aim of maximizing the goals and putting more pressures on the Indonesian government to execute its international and constitutional obligations to protecting, fulfilling, respecting and promoting human rights in the country. As one of the organization core functions of advocacy, HRWG Indonesia is working closely with the UN Human Rights Mechanisms to ensure the State parties' duties.

Jiwasraya Building, 1st Floor, Jl. R.P. Soeroso No. 41, Gondangdia, Jakarta Pusat, Indonesia (10350)

Ph. (+62) 21 3143015, Fax. (+62) 21 3143058

Website: www.hrwg.org | E-mail: hrwg.indonesia@gmail.com

Community Legal Aid Institute (LBH Masyarakat) is a not-for-profit legal aid organization that provides free legal services for the poor and victims of human rights abuses; undertakes legal empowerment for marginalized groups; and advocates for legal reform and human rights protection through strategic litigation, public campaigns, and research and analysis.

Jl. Tebet Timur Dalam VI E No. 3, Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia (12820)

Ph. (+62) 21 83789766, Fax. (+62) 21 83789767

Website: <http://lbhmasyarakat.org/> | E-mail: contact@lbhmasyarakat.org

Institute for Criminal Justice Reform (ICJR), having established in 2007, commits to take the initiative to support measures in realizing the reformation of law and criminal justice system towards a democratic direction is one of the crucial issues faced by Indonesia during the current transition era. ICJR is formed with an exclusive mission to support collective actions in honoring the Rule of Law and realizing criminal justice system with strong human rights protection character.

Jl. Siaga II No. 6F, Pejaten Barat, Pasar Minggu, Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia (12510)

Ph. (+62) 21 7945455, Fax. (+62) 21 7945455

Website: <http://icjr.or.id/> | E-mail: infoicjr@icjr.or.id

Indonesian Human Rights Monitor (Imparsial), established on 2002 by 18 prominent human rights activist of Indonesia; Todung Mulya Lubis, Karlina Leksono, M. Billah, Wardah Hafidz, Hendaradi, Nursyahbani Katjasungkana, Ade Rostina Sitompul, Robertus Robet, Binny Buchory, Kamala Chandrakirana, HS Dillon, Munir, Rachland Nashidik, Rusdi Marpaung, Otto Syamsuddin Ishak, Nezar Patria, Amiruddin, dan Poengky Indarti. The name of “Imparsial” taken from word “impartial”, a sight to respect fairness for all individuals without difers by race, religion, of nations for justice, with the special attention to those who less fortunate.

Jl. Tebet Utara II C No. 25, Tebet, Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia (12820)

Ph. (+62) 21 83786997, Fax. (+62) 21 83786997

Website: www.imparsial.org | E-mail: office@imparsial.org

Foundation for International Human Rights Reporting Standards (FIHRRST) is a not-for-profit foundation dedicated to the protection and the fulfillment of human rights. It was established to develop and promote standards by which adherence to human rights principles can be demonstrated. In particular, FIHRRST work revolves around three main areas, consisting in: Human Rights and Business, Human Rights and Cities, and Human Rights and Religious Beliefs. To realize this intention, FIHRRST commits to work together with central and local governments, business people, civil society, communities, human rights defenders, and universities, engaging in activities in the areas of research, development of standards, and the promotion and dissemination of human rights ideals.

Marcus Building, Jl. Majapahit No. 10, Jakarta Pusat, Indonesia (10160)

Ph. (+62) 21 34830789, Fax. (+62) 21 34830965

Website: www.fihrrst.org | E-mail: contact@fihrrst.org

Indonesian Legal Resources Center (ILRC) is a non-governmental organisation that concerned with the reformation of legal education. In the transition era to democracy, Indonesia faced various problems on corruption, lack of human rights guarantee in legislative level, and weak of law enforcement. The establishment of ILRC was part of our concerned towards the irresponsible of legal education with the problem of social justice.

Jl. Tebet Timur I No. 4, Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia (12820)

Ph. (+62) 21 93821173, Fax. (+62) 21 8356641

Website: <http://mitrahukum.org/> | E-mail: ilrc-indonesia@cbn.net.id