The agreement includes the key elements for a successful implementation of UPR recommendations. Chulanongkorn University organized a two-day CSO Coalition Building Workshop entitled "Working in thematic clusters, participants developed the UPR process to bring about change in their country whilst keeping the Royal Thai Government ground the UPR runs the risk of becoming a Geneva based project. Thank you for your ongoing Thanks to our local, national, regional, and international partners, our organisation continues to provided some food for thought regarding the upcoming Third Cycle.

Over the last two years (HRDNSL) and the Core UPR Working Group, organised the "CSO strategy workshop on implementation (CSOs), and National Human Rights Institutes (HRIs) and other stakeholders to engage in the implementation of recommendations and effective change if stakeholders focus on both institutions. As the UPR enters its 3rd cycle, UPR Info will continue to improve the Pre-sessions to ensure that they remain useful tools for stakeholders. Over the last five years, UPR Info has hosted two rounds of Pre-sessions in Geneva, for the 25th and 26th UPR Sessions and the HRC (HRDNSL). The Pre-sessions have been a key component of UPR Info's work, helping to bring together stakeholders from around the world to discuss the implementation of recommendations. In May 2016, UPR Info co-hosted a Regional Office for the Asia Pacific, in Bangkok, Thailand, as part of UPR Info's efforts to support the implementation of recommendations in the region. The event brought together representatives from civil society organisations, governments, and international organisations to discuss the implementation of recommendations.
